

TERESA NADDEO

Standing Auditor

Born in 1958.

After a degree in economics and business at the University of Turin, she began her career at Arthur Andersen & Co. (now, Deloitte) with auditing duties in the Financial and Banking sectors, until she took up the position of manager responsible for the financial statements and auditing in leading Italian banking institutions. Then she left the audit sector in order to take on the role of Finance and Control Director in a leading Asset Management group.

As Official Auditor and Chartered Accountant in 1996 she has started her own firm and continued dealing with banking and financial intermediaries with expertise in regulatory, supervisory, compliance and risk management fields.

She has supervised the establishment of a new IT Outsourcing operator, active in the financial field, founding a new company in which she held the office of CEO for about three years.

Since 2014 she has dedicated herself, with increasing commitment, to the roles of independent director and statutory auditor in listed and unlisted companies.
